The world of sustainable laboratory equipment

„The world of sustainable laboratory equipment“ is not merely a slogan; it is an apt statement that Labexchange – the marketplace for lab equipment – has embodied time and time again through its distinct values and long-standing tradition. Labexchange specialises in assessing the functionality of used lab and analysis equipment and restoring it to full functionality through technical servicing.

We are proud pioneers in the field of used laboratory and analysis equipment. This is also reflected in our logo. For us, the circular economy is about being ready for the future. It has been part of our company DNA since the company was founded in 1989. Keeping raw materials in circulation not only protects the environment and reduces electronic waste, but also plays a major role in the economy.

We offer a guarantee on every appliance we inspect, so that our customers have peace of mind when buying used equipment. Price is not the only reason to buy used equipment; it is also a future-focused decision!
